GREAT FOOTBALL CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW

Yale Meets Princeton to Settle Old Question of Supremacy—Michigan Faces Pennsylvania in Classy Contest and Chicago Will Struggle With Cornell Tomorrow.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11.—A mighty throng of followers of the colors of Yale and Princeton is pouring into this city in anticipation of tomorrow's game which will award football honors to one or the other university. Hotels, clubs, fraternity houses and private residences have been opened for the accommodation of the visiting classmen and graduates, and every train from east and west is adding to the crowd.

The game will be the most important to be played here this season. Practically every ticket for the field has been taken, and it is evident that the Yale stands will hold a record-breaking crowd tomorrow afternoon. Coaches on both sides are expressing confidence in the result. Yale is a favorite in the wagers, many bets of 2 to 1 being offered on her chances.

A glance at the full record of the Yale-Princeton games in the past shows how hard fought they were, with their close scores and the remarkable number of fumbles by the losing team. The record for the past 33 years is as follows:

In the games which have been played in the last 33 years, Yale has triumphed over the Tigers twenty times, the teams have played four tied games, and Princeton has nine times bested the warriors of Old Eli.

Intersectional Games.
Chicago, Nov. 11.—Two important intersectional football games will be played tomorrow, Michigan battling in its annual struggle with Pennsylvania in Philadelphia while Chicago will go to Ithaca to meet Cornell.

Michigan has never yet beaten the Quaker eleven, although the Maize and Blue has come close to victory twice in the four games played. The first meeting between the Ann Arbor team and the Red and Blue was in 1899 in Philadelphia. That was a desperate encounter and ended 11 to 10 in favor of the Quakers. Seven years elapsed before there was another trial at arrangements, and this time the combat took place at Ann Arbor. The easterners easily defeated Yost's team, 17 to 0.

That was the beginning of the annual clash between these teams. For years it has been the ambition of the big schools of the middle west to get annual contests with the leading teams of the east, that a thorough trial may be made of the respective merits of football as played in these two sections of the country.

Pennsylvania was victorious again in 1907, the game being played this time on Franklin field, Philadelphia. The score was 6 to 0 and Yost thought the officials had given decisions against his team that cost the Wolverines the victory.

Last year the Quakers again came west, playing Michigan at Ann Arbor, but the victory was easier than any previous ones—20 to 0.

What these two teams can do against each other on Saturday is difficult to foretell. Both have been in and out of the present campaign. Pennsylvania has shown flashes of great reserve strength. But the same must be said of Michigan. The Wolverines barely noded out a victory over Marquette, 6 to 5, and then turned around and beat Syracuse 43 to 0. That little battle made the Maize and Blue look like one of Yost's old-time scoring machines; but along came Notre Dame and knocked all the hopes of the non-conference championship out of the heads of the Ann Arborites.

Wisconsin-Minnesota.

Madison, Nov. 12.—The most important game scheduled in the western football conference tomorrow is that between the University of Wisconsin and the University of Minnesota. The result of this contest will settle the conference championship for another year, as neither team has been defeated. Although Minnesota is admittedly strong this year, and the Badgers have been considered hopelessly weak, the contest is sure to be an even struggle. A glance at the football records of these two institutions of higher thought encourages the Wisconsin contingent. Never has Minnesota with her strongest eleven defeated the Wisconsin team on Camp Randall field and although a close game is looked forward to, it is thought that Wisconsin will hold her own against Dr. Williams' men.

LIKES MINNESOTA.

Walter Camp, the famous football critic, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday and will be the guest of Coach Williams until after the game. Mr. Camp witnessed the secret practice yesterday and seemed pleased with the work of the Gophers. Pettijohn has been called from end to quarter because of his knowledge of the game and accuracy in making the long passes. Vidol is taking Pettijohn's place at left end. The catches are using every effort to get the team on edge for the Badgers' game Saturday and anticipate the hardest kind of a battle.

A Hero.
"I saw a remarkable demonstration of courage and fortitude this morning," "Some one rescued from a fire!" "More notable than that, even; a man passed a prepossessing looking woman on the street and never turned to look after her."

MICHIGAN'S CREW LOYAL.

Michigan expects to have a body of 1,500 enthusiasts to root for the Wolverine team at Philadelphia tomorrow. It is announced that the entire crew of the battleship Michigan, which is at League Island, will attend the game in a body, headed by its band. The Michigan crew has secured one whole section in the north stand, between the Pennsylvania and the Michigan cheering sections, and will cheer for the Wolverines.

BAT NELSON RESTING.

Will Not Re-enter Fighting Game Until Next Spring.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Battling Nelson gave out the following statement this week:

"I am not going to enter the ring again in a championship bout until April. Six lightweights are looking for a chance at me, Paddy McFarland, Ad Wolgast, Johnny Summers and Freddie Welsh of England, Lew Powell and Dave Desher. Let them arrange a series of elimination matches and I will agree right now that any time after the first of April I will meet the one of the lot who has proved himself most worthy of the chance."

"I can't be expected to fight them all. As it is, since I won the lightweight championship title, I have defended it more times than any other champion in any class. I am always ready, but I want to meet the best. So let this bunch fight it out."

WARRANT FOR GOTCH

Frank A. Gotch, world's champion, was served with summons this week in Chicago by Deputy Sheriff Otto Gnevwuch in a suit which was brought in the circuit court by Miss Sadie Currie, 21 years old, who alleges Gotch failed to keep his promise to marry her. Miss Currie asks $25,000 damages from the big grappler. Gotch says he does not know the girl.

SULLIVAN IS WILLING

John L. Sullivan, who has been mentioned as a possible referee for the Jeffries-Johnson fight, has his to say about it: "If I am asked to officiate I will accept. The American public knows me and my reputation and I would render a fair and unbiased verdict. If I am the third man in the ring there will be no loafing or stalling. The men will have to fight from the handshake till one or the other is beaten. I will guarantee the public a run for its money."

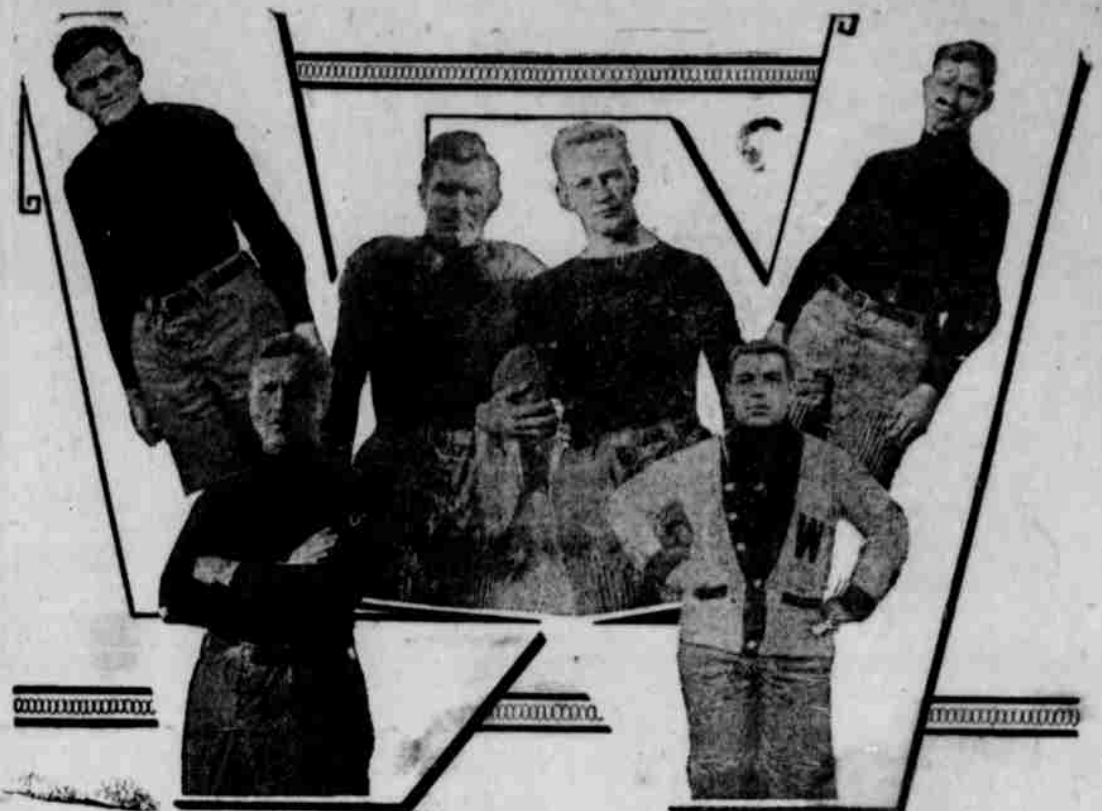

GARDNER IS CAPTAIN.

Former Calumet Hockey Star Will Lead the Montreal Team.

The annual still hunt for hockey players in Montreal by the professional teams is on and one of the first to attach his signature to a contract which will require him to play away from the city is Billy Baker, last year's Shamrock goal-keeper, who was formerly connected with the Wanderers' Hockey Club.

Baker has accepted an offer to play in Chicago this winter on a team being organized by Art. Leader, the former Montreal and Quebec player. Jimmie Gardner, who is slated to lead the Jubilee rink organization this season, was also invited to join the Chicago aggregation, but it is said he turned down the offer.

Wisconsin Stars in Minnesota Contest Tomorrow

Madison, Nov. 12.—Preparations have been made for handling the largest in crowd the history of football at Wisconsin for the Minnesota-Wisconsin championship contest at Camp Randall tomorrow. Great banks of seats have been erected at each end of field to accommodate the crowds that have already indicated their intention of attending.

From Milwaukee a large party is arranging to come to the game in automobiles. James T. Drought, law '95, of the Wisconsin Automobile club being director of the party. The Chicago alumni numbering 500, are planning to attend the game in a body. Other parties are coming from La-Crosse, Eau Claire, Janesville, Beloit, Watertown, Oshkosh and Racine.

As this will be the only big game in the west tomorrow, Chicago playing Ithaca, N. Y., and Michigan at Philadelphia, it is anticipated that most of the gridiron enthusiasts of the north-west will take advantage of the opportunity to see what will practically be the decisive championship game of the Big Nine.

Seats have been provided for 10,000 people, and a large section of the north bleachers have been reserved for Wisconsin rooters, who will form a solid block of some 5,000. The Minnesota crowd, numbering at least 1,000, will occupy a block of seats in the grandstand opposite. The Gopher students will be accompanied by their military band and a large delegation of gridiron enthusiasts from the Twin Cities.

In order to accommodate the thousands of alumni from out of town, large sections of desirable seats on both sides of the field have been reserved for mail order sale. Because of the big demand for seats only orders accompanied by drafts or money orders can be honored. Blocks of seats have been ordered for sale in Chicago, Milwaukee and Eau Claire, and it is expected that there will not be a reserved seat left unsold on the morning of the game. No general admission seats will be sold elsewhere than at the gate, and these will admit only to seats at the ends of the field, all of the space at the sides being converted into reserved sections to accommodate the crowd.

To increase the seating capacity sufficiently, it has been necessary to erect bleachers in front of the grandstand, low enough not to interfere with the view. These and the two huge bleachers to be put up at the east and west ends of the field will fill the space heretofore occupied by automobiles, tally-hos and carriages so that there will be no opportunity to view the game from the vehicles.

LAURIUM SKI JUMPERS WILL BE ACTIVE AGAIN

The members of the ski club which was organized in Florida last winter, are looking forward to a very successful season this year. As soon as the first winter weather arrives, the hill located near Florida will be placed in condition for the winter season, and the ski jumpers will commence practicing.

The hill will be given more elevation this winter, and will be made longer, giving the ski jumper a much better start than was possible last winter. It is believed that these changes will result in a big improvement in the jumps made. The record jump for the copper country is now 49 feet.

Some of the best ski jumpers in this section will probably enter the big tournaments which are to be conducted at Ishpeming and Coleraine, Minnesota. Both of these tournaments will be national meets, and the best jumpers in the country will be entered, giving the local followers of the sport an opportunity to test their skill, and to gain experience for future meets.

New members will be recruited for the club at once, and it is expected that the interest aroused and the support given to the organization will gradually effect the entire town and that ski riding will become very popular here.

ROB SPIKES OF DANGER.

Players May Be Required to Stop Feet-First Slide.

"I notice that the club owners in the big leagues at their meeting in New York next month are again to take up the question of abolishing the spike," remarked Geo. Tebeau. "Now the spike, cruel as it has been many of the hurts it has inflicted, is a necessary evil. Without it the field-line would be 50 per cent slower than it is now, and there would be little or no base running."

"But the spike problem is a very simple one. If the club owners would adopt a rule making it unlawful to slide into a base feet first there would be no injuries caused by the spike. This thing of going into a man feet first ought to have been prohibited long ago."

"Just a little amendment to the base running rule that would stop the feet-first slide would solve the whole thing and relieve the game of one of its greatest evils."

PLAN TO JUG TIGERS.

Detroit Baseball Team Learns That It Can't Quit Game.

The Tigers were put up against a novel proposition in Havana Monday. In the third inning against the Al-mendares team, a balk was called on Willets by the Cuban ump and he allowed the basemen to walk, although the bases were unoccupied. The rules define differently, but the ump refused to be reasoned with, so the Tigers decided to quit.

They changed their minds suddenly, however, when the police informed them to take the alternative of either playing ball or spending a night or two in a Cuban jail. They chose the former in a hurry.

The final result was 13 to 2 in favor of the Cuban team. The dark-skinned players rapped Willets for 15 hits.

BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED AT CHICAGO

Amateur Athletic Union Provides for a National Contest to take Place in the Windy City During the Spring Month—Good Trophies Will Be Offered.

Word comes from Chicago that the basketball championship of the entire United States will be decided in the Windy City in March or April of 1910, this season. With the exception of last season, when the Central A. A. U. championships were held in Detroit, this basketball classic has always been held in Chicago or its suburbs, but the landing of the A. A. U. National championship games is something new, even for Chicago, and should be the greatest basketball event ever held in the west.

Charles A. Dean, chairman of the A. A. U. basketball committee, is author of the announcement but outside of stating that there will be elegant trophies, emblematic of the National championship together with A. A. U. de medals for the members of the first three teams and that liberal inducements will be offered to help pay visiting team's traveling expenses, he leaves all further particulars to be announced later.

No Changes in Rules.

A hasty trip through the Spalding guide shows nothing new in the line of rules, though there were many suggestions made during the off months of the season. The rules committee, in the introduction, announces they gave all suggestions careful consideration but will first have the proposed changes tried out in localities before making a switch.

One of the talked of changes was the allowance of a try for a goal after a fumble, without passing, but nothing has been done and so this will have to wait another year. The misunderstanding on this point resulted from somebody getting hold of intercollegiate rules, published in the Reach guide.

MEET IN DECEMBER

International Skating Association Will Elect Officers Next Month.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Election of officers of the International Skating Association will be held the first week of December, according to announcement by Allen I. Blanchard of the western association of that organization.

At this meeting all four sections of the I. N. S. U. A. will be represented and representatives of Canada and the east will be on hand. Louis Rubenstein, present president of the union will come here from Canada as representative of the Canadian Amateur Skating association; David H. Harrison of Fort William, Canada, will be on hand to talk for the western Canadian Skating association, David Shaybeck will vote for the eastern skating association.
